

WHAT WILL THE UPCOMING REVIVAL BE LIKE?

PROPHECIES THAT ARE TO BE PRAYED - 02

1. In the year two thousand and twelve, the word of the Lord came, saying: Behold, the southern regions of your own nation are waiting for My latter rain. I have appointed a time of revival for this.
2. It is coming swiftly. This end-time revival will arise in South India and then spread throughout all the borders of your nation. Owing to its touch, just as the cities are kindled, so too will the villages be kindled. Just as the villages, so too will the hills be kindled. And just as the hills, the islands will also be kindled.
3. Those who carry the light and those who carry the fire will set out from here in great numbers. Moreover, the revival will also engulf the neighbouring lands and many other nations. At that moment, as the wind grows strong and the blaze spreads rapidly, it will enter all the nations. I myself will cause the wind to blow strongly and the blaze to engulf so that the revival may spread.
4. Your nation is waiting for the latter rain to begin the revival. I shall commence it right here. Then I will open the heavens for My people. I will open My ears to those who ask, and My hands to those who pray.
5. During those days, My Spirit will spread evenly among the people. His presence will be like a consuming fire and an overwhelming flood. He will turn the heart of the one who ministers and the heart of the one who receives ministry toward His word. The people will return to the Scriptures.
6. Just as a hungry person yearns for food and a thirsty person pants for water, so will they long for My word. As a result, each one will interpret and share My words with their neighbour. In those days, My word will bring joy to their hearts and will remain ever before their eyes.
7. Those who speak the words of the Scriptures and those who listen will multiply greatly. Children will rise up to inquire about My words with their parents and understand them. Children will declare the testimony of My word to their own children. What they declare, they will see.
8. They will meditate on My word in the streets, during journeys, and while they wait. Friends will interpret and share My words with one another. Churches that deeply hunger and thirst for My word will arise. My servants will arise to wander all over the nation, to spread the revival. People will reject the servants who do not preach the Word, saying, 'We do not want your ways. Your words are a burden, and your ministry is a lie.
9. Then I will raise up servants who are mighty. There will be power in their hands and gifts in their fingers. My word will be on their tongues, and My will in their hearts. Since their feet shall tread, the land will be set ablaze.

10. Those who proclaim My name, even to the ends of the earth, shall rise in great numbers. They will seek to sow My word in forsaken lands and hidden places. A fire will blaze very swiftly. There will be salvation in its fragrance and deliverance in its anointing. It will strengthen the feeble and transform a sinner into a saint.

11. It will not be quenched by water, nor diminished by wind. It will ignite and spread to the right, to the left, to the front, and to the back — in all the places wherever I desire. This fire is neither for destruction nor for ruin. Rather, it is meant to cleanse hearts, consume wickedness, and strengthen hands, says the Lord.

12. The time has come for the blessings I promised to touch your nation swiftly. The time has now come for the accomplishment of the promises I had made to raise up a great multitude of people for Myself such that they may rise in great numbers to proclaim the glory of My name and Since they proclaim, the number of people who shall arise will be beyond counting which cannot be restrained and the time is at hand to open the floodgates says the Lord.

13. But before that, I will raise up a people who pray. Prayer will rise like a wave across your nation. Multitudes will gather and remain in prayer. Churches will bow their knees for prayer. Those who fast, those who pray, those who take up the responsibility, and those who weep abundantly will fill My incense.

14. Just as the learned person prays, so will the unlearned pray. Just as the elders pray, so will the children pray. Just as the one who ministers prays, so will the one who receives the ministry will also pray.

15. Those who pray for hours, those who pray through the night, and those who pray for days will rise in great numbers. Prayer will become the central focus of conversation among My people. It will be their earnest desire. When the call to prayer is given, the people will come forth as if setting out for a wedding banquet. First, I will place the burden and awareness to pray within My people. This will be the work I do before the onset of revival.

16. Multitudes in your nation will be filled with the knowledge of knowing the Lord. I Myself will seek out, through you, those who have been scattered and those who have been forgotten. At that time, I will bring out those hidden in the wilderness and in the clefts of the rock—those who are despised, forgotten by men, and who have never known the faces of strangers.

17. I will give the command to seek out and bring into the fold those sheep who do not know the fold. Then many will rise up to fulfill My command. One will say, 'I will go,' another will say, 'I will support you,' and another will say, 'Let us go together.' When the worship ends, the church will set out to reap the harvest. Children will turn the hearts of the parents and the youth will turn the hearts of the elders.

18. You will surely witness my anointing descending upon the countless people who are forgotten, who are hidden, who live in the mountains, who have hidden themselves so as not to see the light, and who cannot rise from the lowest levels of society. In that day, the deaf will hear the words of the Scripture. The blind will read my words. Those who cannot walk will carry my Scriptures," says the Lord.

PRAYER POINTS :

1. The Lord has spoken that the upcoming end-time revival will arise from the southern states of India. Because of this, we must focus our prayers primarily on the five southern Indian states of Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, and Telangana. Pray thoughtfully, remembering the political institutions and authorities in these southern states. Pray that no actions are taken in politics based on religion. Remember and pray for the churches, officials, and Christian institutions in these five states. Pray that each one of them believes in the plan of revival and prays that they and their communities may get prepared for it.
2. Pray that, according to the Lord's promises concerning the season of revival, a great multitude of those who carry the light and those who carry the fire will arise. We understand that the light symbolizes salvation, and the fire symbolizes anointing. Based on this, pray that evangelists who proclaim salvation will rise up in great numbers and fill the nation with the Gospel. Pray that they will go forth to preach not only in cities but also in villages, hilly regions, coastal areas, and islands. Pray that, just like these, a multitude of apostles carrying the Lord's anointing power will rise up and visit those Christians who have not yet received the anointing.
3. Pray that numerous churches and servants who faithfully expound the Word of God may rise up. The people of the new generation who arise in the season of revival may earnestly seek the Scriptures. Churches that faithfully teach the Word must arise. May the churches, believers, and servants who have drifted away from the Word by focusing on other things repent and return to the Scriptures of God. Pray that today's churches may gain a clear and deep insight into the Scriptures and their teachings.
4. The Lord has promised to raise up prayer warriors as forerunners before the season of revival begins. We can already see this promise being fulfilled today. Nevertheless, for such a great and mighty plan, more prayers are needed. Pray that prayer groups may arise in every church, and that prayer cells for revival may be established in every home. Pray that the fasting prayers and all-night prayer meetings within the churches may continue. Also pray that those who pray do not pray out of obligation or for show, but with a true burden from the Lord, and that those who pray in the Spirit may be powerfully led.
5. Pray for the anointings that serve as a preamble to the revival, and for the anointings which the Lord has promised to pour out during the season of revival. God's anointment is required not only before the revival could appear, but also to prepare the way for revival, and prepare the churches and people of God for revival, and pray earnestly to the extent that God expects for revival. Pray for the anointments which shall descend at the present time upon each of His children who desire for revival and for the powerful anointments which shall descend later among the people in the season of revival. Pray that not only prayer meetings, but also tarrying meetings where people wait upon the Lord for His power and His Word may be conducted in every church, ministry, and prayer group.
